Media Advisory 4th SFAB announces upcoming deployment

Fort Carson, Colo. – The Department of the Army has announced yesterday the upcoming 2020 rotation of the 4th Security Forces Assistance Brigade (SFAB) to Afghanistan later this year in support of Operation Freedom Sentinel.

The 4th SFAB will replace the 3rd Security Forces Assistance Brigade, from Fort Hood, Texas, as part of a regular rotation of forces.

While deployed, the Soldiers will advise and assist Afghan partners on security force operations.

"Our advisors are fully trained, and every Soldier is ready for the mission that lies ahead," said Col. James Dooghan, commander, 4th SFAB. "We look forward to maintaining the legacy of all NATO forces who have laid the foundation before us, especially our fellow SFABs across the U.S."
